Exercise 3

'Make' + adjective

We use 'make' in sentences to describe how things change other things. Examples are 'Music makes me happy.' Or 'Chocolate makes people fat.'

Make some more sentences with 'make'...

Think of something(s) which	make(s) you happy.
	make(s) your clothes dirty.
	make(s) your parents angry.
	make(s) a loud noise.
	make(s) no sense.

Exercise 4

In our other show 'The Alien Grammar Show', the aliens have trouble asking questions in English. The aliens in this show have two different problems with the English language. Look at this letter that the aliens write to us and work out what the problems are. Then correct the letter.

Dear people of the earth,

Please help us. There are two agents, Agent Tree and Agent Wood. They want to kill us.

Agent Tree is okay. He not smoke cigarettes and he wash every day. He is clever and he not smell bad. But Agent Wood is crazy. He like guns and he like killing, but he not like aliens. He try to kill us every day. And he not wash. He smell terrible.

We not have much time on Earth. We want to clean the air. The air here is very dirty.

Petrol from cars and airplanes make the air dirty. Coal make electricity, but coal also make the air very dirty. Please, if possible, not use a lot of petrol, and please not use too much electricity.

Thank you

Joolibifa and Feedadog

Exercise 4

Compliments

In the story Agent Tree tells Joolibifa ... 'You have beautiful eyes.'

This is called a compliment (the phrase is 'to pay somebody a compliment.'). Learning how to make real compliments is a very good skill to learn, but it can be very difficult for some people.

Make some compliments using these phrases

You have very nice You have beautiful I really like your I really like the way you ...

Find some other students and pay them compliments. Remember that is is very easy to think of silly compliments or things that are not true. The best compliments are the ones that you really think are true.

Exercise 5

Interview with an alien.

In the story the agents catch one of the aliens and ask her questions. You will also have a chance to ask her questions during the show. You can practice this in class. In small groups think of questions that you would like to ask the alien. Then two or three students (or the teacher) sit at the front of the class and answer everybody's questions. Of course you don't know the answers, just think of something.

Exercise 6

Gibberish translation game

In reality, the actors in the show speak 'gibberish'. This is a special word for when we speak nonsense, but we pretend that we are speaking a real language. We make sounds that seem to be real words but they aren't and we talk normally and listen to the other person as if it were a real conversation. It can be good fun. The secret of speaking good gibberish is not to say too much and really listen to the other person.

In groups of four 2 students speak gibberish, stopping after each sentence and the other 2 act as their translators. The translators have to imagine what the gibberish speakers are trying to say and translate it into English. The gibberish speakers must never correct the translators, they just smile at them and carry on with the conversation.
